What is Iridology?

Iridology is a non-invasive method of iris (eye) analysis used to determine conditions and levels of health within the body. Iridology dates as far back as Ancient Egypt when Imhotep "Father of Medicine" used iridology as one of his healing arts. Through this ancient system it is possible to understand the whole person. You will learn to read signs of inflammation, congestion, degenerative and regenerative stages of organs and organ systems. Mental, physical, emotional, and spiritual aspects can also be interpreted. The eyes are truly the "windows of the soul". By being made aware of their conscious and subconscious behavior patterns and influences of genetic memory, individuals are able to understand the origins of their conditions and afflictions, enabling them to positively transform their lives on all levels.

The Birth of Iridology

In the sketches on ancient papyruses, which are several thousands years old, one can see many pictures in which priests investigate the eyes of a pharaoh. According to research, the priests of Ancient Egypt were able not only to make diagnosis of the existing disease, but also to make a prognosis of the future state of a patient's health, to determine the characteristic features of a person, based on the changes in the iris.
